Church, chapel and village news

Number 79 Autumn 2012

Cover picture: icon of St Silin whose feast day is 12 October. There will be a special service in St Silin's on Sunday 14 October.

My dear friends,

I write this introduction to the Llansilin Newsletter with sadness because as most of you will know we will be leaving unexpectedly in the near future and most likely before the weekend of the Llansilin show in August which I am sure will be blessed. Time is a most precious gift to us and to be used wisely I believe and because of family circumstances I have with Bishop Gregory's support, for which Kath and I are really grateful, to retire at the end of August.

We are also grateful for the prayers of everyone concerned and for those prayers being answered in many ways.

Most of you will know that our youngest grandson Max has contracted leukaemia this has resulted in journeys to both Alder Hey and the Countess of Chester Hospitals. This might seem enough to consider an increase in our support of family but the situation has been complicated when our eldest daughter Julie had a stroke and was rushed to Warrington Hospital. Bishop Gregory has also allowed me compassionate leave.

Someone asked me, 'Vicar, has it affected your faith?' Well, I have to say I now have a little understanding of how Job felt. We all have to face hard times but one thing I can say is that the outcome depends on the way we meet them and that for those who believe there is a purpose to it all. As we read in Romans chapter 8, 'We know all things work together for good for those who love God, who are called according to his purpose.' So has all this affected us? Of course it has, but we stand in faith.

So it is with a heavy heart that I pen these words (or rather should I say 'bash the keys?') But there is hope and light and that gives strength.

We will remember all of you with the utmost affection and thank you for sharing your lives with us. Time is indeed precious and it is important that we should not waste it but grasp every opportunity to grow together in love which seeds I have always sought to sow wherever that may be.

One of my favourite hymns is 'One more step along the world I go' and now we are taking a further step to 'Who knows what?' but I know it will be good in the end and we take it with confidence.

You will be always in our hearts, God bless you

Tony Dilworth

Thank You

Fruits of labour, fruits of the earth, gifts of the Spirit

This is about Christian Aid and how Llansilin helps

Who is to be helped?

Money raised during Christian Aid Week 2012 is being put to work in GBap, Sierra Leone. Living in the aftermath of a long civil war, GBap has fertile land and a well stocked with fish, but equipment, education and health services are all lacking.

Fruits of labour and the earth

The main crop in GBap is a large potato like vegetable. By a laborious process, toiling in the sun, it is pounded into flour to make a porridge which is the staple food. Surplus vegetable or flour can be sold at market where it fetches a higher price. By providing a generator and shredder more high value flour can be produced to help GBap achieve its ambitions for health and education. This year money raised in Llansilin for the project will be match funded by the UK government.

Raising money in Llansilin

This year we arranged a soup and cheese lunch, a coffee evening and house to house collections. In addition there were significant gifts from chapels together with a collection at the united service and individual donations. You are all thanked for helping us to achieve a total of £596.16, which has been sent to Christian Aid.

Gifts of the Spirit

All of these events were marked by gifts of the spirit - kindness, goodness and joy. Kindness and goodness were shown in the many ways of giving time, labour, produce and goods. Joy was found in fellowship at lunch, in our coffee evening and worship. Fundraising means work - it's hard on the legs and sometimes on the spirit but it can be immensely rewarding. If you want to volunteer, or if you have any ideas for other ways of fundraising, speak to Rhianon Lewis, telephone 791266, or Christine Williams 791563.

Open Garden Day raises £300 for the village shop

A Big Thank You from the Committee of the Community Shop to all involved in the Open Garden Day in the Village, and especially to Joan Fox Linton who with her band of helpers organized the event and the garden owners who allowed us to view their gardens.

Thanks also to Kate Beecroft who supported us by providing plants on the sales table. It was a thoroughly enjoyable and successful afternoon - we were not rained off and refreshments were delicious. It was good to see so many people visiting such a variety of lovely gardens, so thanks to all for their support.

Just under £300 was raised and we are really grateful for this donation - it helps ensure that we can continue to serve the local community.

Village Jubilee celebrations

The jubilee committee would like to express their gratitude to every one who helped in making the Jubilee day a great success. The committee were fortunate to receive donations and contributions from various local businesses, committee groups and individuals.

We had fingers crossed for good weather and luckily we were rewarded with a dry day. The day began with everyone gathered together in the hall, viewing the children in fancy dress. It was lovely to see the children dressed up as "Kings and Queens" and it was a tough job for our judges to choose a winner!

The hall was decorated beautifully with jubilee memorabilia and children's drawings of the queen, again a very difficult job for the judges to choose a winner in the three different categories.

Each child was presented with a special commemorative Diamond Jubilee mug. Refreshments included an abundance of home made cakes, scones and buns.

The children and adults alike enjoyed a variety of races on the school sports field, including the sack race, three legged race and other races.

The Parents, Teachers and Friends Association (PTFA) of Ysgol Bro Cyllaith organised a Balloon release as part of the celebrations. A total of 500 balloons were released on the day and it was lovely to see the sky filled with red, white and blue balloons.

The winners of the balloon release:- 1st- Rachel Jones, 2nd- Paul Andrews, 3rd- Ilaria Grifa.

Families sat together on one long table re-creating street parties from years gone by and enjoyed a picnic with jelly and ice cream. The children enjoyed having their faces painted and lots of fun was had bouncing on the bouncy castle.

In the evening a family B-B-Q was enjoyed by everyone, along with a disco and the day of celebration was rounded off with fireworks and the lighting of a beacon up on the hill for all to see.

Once again a sincere thank you to all who helped (too many names to mention individually, but you know who you are) and contributed towards making the day a memorable one.

Church news

Busy days at St Silin's

In June a big congregation came together to commemorate Queen Elizabeth's Diamond Jubilee with representatives present from all the village organisations, including the Community Council. Coffee and tea followed in the Parish Room

Also in June we had the pleasure of a splendid concert by the Cantiones Chamber Choir from Oswestry. Their programme was a delightful mixture of Lighter Music for a Summer Evening. If you had the misfortune to miss the event we are hoping for a return visit next year.

Another memorable day was the Gymanfa Ganu (singing festival) - a wonderful afternoon with special guests - London West End Stars - local girl Gaynor Ellis and her husband Howard Smith who sang beautiful solos and duets. The afternoon was conducted by Linda Getting, who provided such interesting introductions to each hymn. All of this plus the fantastic high tea was day to remember.

We were very sorry to lose our vicar, Tony Dilworth, after so short a time but sad family circumstances have overtaken him. Our prayers and thoughts are with him, as are our sincere thanks for all he has done for Llansilin.

As yet we do not know what permanent arrangement will be made but there will be discussions between the diocese and the parish to seek the best solution. In the meantime services will continue as normal

Summer has arrived at last. How many of you visited the Royal Welsh Show? I'm sure we are all looking forward to our local shows this summer hoping for the same weather as the Royal had at Llanelwedd.

On the first Sunday in May a Gymanfa Ganu was held at Cefn Canol Chapel. Angela Evans was the conductor and Nerys Pritchard was the organist. There was a good understanding between these two talented ladies and this added to the enjoyment of the singing. Gaynor Ellis was the guest soloist and all in all it was a very good Gymanfa.

Sunday the 20 May was the Youth Service. During the service the Peace and Goodwill message was read. This is the message which is compiled by various Urdd Members every year. The Reverend Stanton Evans organised the service and we all look forward to see him amongst us once more after another bout of illness.

One Sunday afternoon in mid-June a group from Aberhosan Sunday School visited Sycharth. Emyr and Carys Evans welcomed them and gave a short talk about this historical site.

Time will wait for no man, and when this edition sees the light of day, Autumn will be at our doorstep.

Four rings for five rings

Mary Cunnah relates how Llansilin played its own part in the Olympic opening - and how you could help to carry on a great tradition.

Llansilin joined a national event to mark the opening of the Olympic Games when four bells were rung in St Silin's Church. This was part of a "happening" in which everyone in the British Isles was encouraged to ring a bell for three minutes at exactly 12 minutes past eight on the morning of 27 July.

Some people wondered if it was Sunday morning, some were annoyed to be awoken so early, but most just accepted it as the music of village life.

One lady told me that her son had been driving through the village at the time and had been thrilled to hear the bells. She was delighted to meet someone who had actually been ringing them, and was going to record it in her diary!!

Bell ringing is a skill which takes time to learn but is fun, and it's free. It's a centuries-old tradition, but it may die out if the techniques are not passed on to future generations

We are lucky to have six wonderful bells in Llansilin Church, but because of limited numbers of people who can ring them, they are not used to their full potential all the time. Perhaps the skills and commitment of the ringers are not appreciated, but they are not too onerous. One hour's practice a week is all that is necessary, and ringing on the first Sunday every month before morning service. (You are not even obliged to go to church!)

Mary bell ringing on her wedding day

I only took up the interest when I moved to live in this area and I never thought that I would ring the bells at my own wedding. You could be ringing for your next 'big' day – or even for the Olympics.

If you are in your teens and start to learn now then you could be ringing the next time in is in Britain (in your 70 or 80s)... It's a sport for all ages and excellent exercise. Come and have a go.

Bell ringing practice takes place every Wednesday in St Silin's church at 7 p.m. Beginners are very welcome.

Flying start for Ngora Orphan Project

I have just returned from my fourth visit to Uganda for Dolen Ffermio, writes Val Talbot, where I was delighted to see at first hand the remarkable progress made by our new Orphan Project in Ngora since January this year. The aims and aspirations of the project are threefold:

1. To keep the children in school by providing two sets of uniforms, shoes and stationery.
2. To provide them with skills that they can use to generate income.
3. To provide them with 5 kg of maize seeds, 2 hens, 2 turkeys and 1 female goat, to help the families to develop a sustainable livelihood.

The children were chosen from among "the poorest of the poor. They come together on the last Saturday of each month so that the committee can keep a check on their health, progress at school and general personal development.

It is really good for them to get together in this way but, even more importantly, this is the opportunity for them to receive the skills training which is a vital part of the project. It enables them to make items to use in their homes or sell in the local markets.

The main way in which the families will become independent is through the gifts of seeds, hens, turkeys and goats. With training and support, these will soon multiply and help to raise the families out of subsistence farming so that they can keep the children in their care in school and prepare them for life.

The picture shows Dolen Ffermio Chairman Richard Jones and Val handing over 5 kg packs of maize seeds after school.

News from Ysgol Bro Cynllaith

Brenda Davies has now retired after 20 years at Ysgol Bro Cynllaith and Rhian Jones will be taking over as acting head in September.

Due to the wet weather a Mini Olympics two-day event, which was organised for local schools, had to be called off at short notice. However as the children had prepared very hard for the event we decided to hold our own mini-Olympics in the village hall. We also invited Llangedwyn Primary School pupils to join us and had two very enjoyable mornings. A Powys school sports co-ordinator also turned up with a real Olympic torch which every child got to hold and have a picture taken with it.

Year 6 leavers going to Llanfyllin in September – Isobel Evans, Tianna Hawkins-Brown and Kelly Jones with their Road Safety Officer Certificates. These were achieved for teaching road safety awareness to other pupils in school through school assemblies, posters and competitions.

We will miss them but wish them all the very best in their new school.

Llansilin Community Council

A new era begins for the council

As a new era begins for the council, I shall try to provide a brief but interesting overview of the July meeting. As new clerk to the council I am planning new ways of communicating with you including creating a dedicated e-mail and answer machine for leaving messages. I will try to devote a Tuesday to council business and ideally can be contacted on 791692.

Planning applications received from and supported were :

- Pen Y Bryn to remove the existing lean to and construct a new gable end in its place.
- Fron Farm a variation of previous planning conditions 2 and 6 granted in 2008 to allow amended access arrangements.
- Nant Hirwen replacement of an existing derelict farm building.

Complaints

The Clerk was asked to write to the highways department concerning the negative improvements to traffic calming in the village since the work was completed. Safety is still the main concern, with cars still speeding, damage to outside of properties occurring and the poor appearance of the yellow lines after a short span of time. Certainly larger vehicles are not being slowed by the current traffic calming measures.

Request for a letter to be written to Tai Clwyd asking for them to tidy up the overgrown land by the houses.

Members were shown designs of public notice boards that could be considered for replacing the damaged one at Moelfre, this is excellent progress and would be provided by Powys County council at no cost to us. Further news to follow and it is noted that other areas are also keen to have a bid put forward for their local notice boards eg Cefn Canol.
